

What is a Virtual Assistant?

Last Updated Thursday, 26 March 2009

What is a Virtual Assistant?

Virtual Assistants are home-based entrepreneurs who provide office and administrative support to businesses remotely via email, telephone, and the internet.

The services of a Virtual Assistant are tailored to each specific client in order to provide high quality business and office support which in turn enables their clients to focus on their core business objectives, rather than on time consuming administrative chores.